Like our namesake, the bird giron or rock ptarmigan (Lagopus muta) which is possibly the toughest bird living in the Arctic, we are familiar with extreme operational environments and associated challenges to be resolved. Commodities and hence mining are necessary for the society to function. Unfortunately mining also can have a detrimental environmental impact. With best practices the downside risks can be minimized while enabling the positive cashflow and beneficial effects to the society.

We work for continuous sustainability improvement of the Finnish exploration and mining industry. For us sustainability means all the aspects of corporate social responsibility (CSR) and environment, social and governance (ESG).
